'MURDER CRIME,' FULLER'S DEMAND

Reed Warns of Vast Propaganda Plot Mackay Yields; TO MEET ELOPERS

'WHO'S PAYING TO GET U.S. IN WORLD COURT,' SENATOR REED ASKS

Washington, Jan. 6.—The World Court issue faced its first direct test vote in the Senate this afternoon when Senator Reed (Democrat) of Missouri carried directly on the floor of the Senate his fight for a senatorial investigation of foreign propaganda.

The test came with adoption of a resolution to send a committee to investigate the propaganda of the United States in the World Court issue, while the Senate was considering a bill to amend the act of March 1, 1915, known as the Espionage Act.

Reed demanded that the Senate should take the question for itself. He declared that the World Court issue had been the subject of settlements between the United States and Germany.

GOVERNOR URGES CURB ON CRIME; WOULD END 'CODDLING OF CROOKS'

The scrapping of "stage coach" laws to meet "twentieth century" crime conditions, and drastic changes in the public utility laws to bring the stock issues and dividends of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company under State control, were the keynotes of Governor Fuller's annual message, delivered today, to the Legislature.

"Times have changed," declared the governor. "The yegmen and the footpads that bothered us a few years ago are no more. Modern inventions and modern social conditions have changed the entire problem."

Attacking the "coddling" method of crime reform, the governor charged that the increase in crime could be largely traced to "misdirected sympathy and the highly deplorable leniency of the courts."

Reformers and parole advocates who have lost sight of the rights and protection of the public and concerned themselves only with the welfare of the criminal, were the target of the governor's attack.

COPS BAILED, BUT ALLEGED VICTIM STAYS IN JAIL

SUPERIORS SAY PAIR CONFESS HOLD-UP

Man Robbed of Watch Can't Raise Bonds for Hearing Next Wednesday

Two patrolmen of the Jamaica Plain division, accused of a hold daylight robbery in the South End, were held in $2,500 bail by Judge Duff in Municipal Court today.

Patrolman Henry T. Brown of Euclid street, Jamaica Plain, was charged with robbery while armed, while Patrolman Daniel McCarthy of 11 street, South Boston, was held on a charge of robbery.

Counsel for Brown argued that as a policeman he had a right to carry a revolver, and, accordingly, the charge should not be made against him, but he was overruled by the court.

An odd feature of the arraignment today was that Francis Pecora, the alleged victim of the pair, who was charged with taking his watch and $46 in cash, was the only one to go to jail.

HEARING NEXT WEEK.

The two patrolmen had been jailed in $2,500 each from the station house on East Indian street, and Judge Duff allowed that bail to stand as that they walked out of the court room.

Patrolman Brown was held as a material witness, and as he had no bail to offer he was placed in the detention room.

The men will appear one week from today.

The two men were captured by Patrolman Henry C. Elliott of Division 5.

After arrest the officers were suspended by Superintendent Michael H. Crowley. Follow up the men have confessed to the robbery.

According to the story told by Brown, Patrolman Elliott was attracted to a doorway at No. 184 Washington street by shouts and the sight of a scuffle among three men.

When Superintendent of Schools Milton O. Goodrich, of York, Me., appointed Granville Brock, principal, students went on strike and the townpeople split into militant factions.
